Hummelstown Business and Professional Association

The Hummelstown Business and Professional Association recognizes that communities grow, and businesses succeed when they work together. The HBPA includes roughly 100 dynamic business owners and professionals who promote commercial, industrial, civic, and general interest in Hummelstown. As luck would have it, our community is a remarkably dynamic and charming place to live, work and play-which makes it a lot of fun to achieve our mission!

We engage in cooperative marketing, emphasize conducting business with one another, and sponsor a wide array of events to bring families into Hummelstown, build goodwill with the community, and support local charities, and more.
